They Testify as to Traction Company Fights.

SPENT BUT LITTLE MONEY

Paid Messrs. Saunders and Manning $2,000 Each for Working Up Pub-

S2,000 Each for Working Up Public Sentiment—Wirt E. Taylor
Got $1.000 for Services.

The Committee on Municipal Investigation held another session last night, examined Messrs. E. L. Bemiss and Everett Waddey as to the operations of the Traction Company for privileges before the Council, and when they had been excused the body adjourned to meet again on Wednesday next at 4 o'clock P. M.

There was no very startling testimony adduced last night, the burden of that given being in relation to the fight of the Traction Company to come on Main Street.

To relation to the fight of his company to go main Street.

"How was the money spent?" asked Mr. Pollard.

"We had very expensive counsel, to start with," was the reply.

"Both," said the witness, amid laughter. He said it had been found necessary to employ influential political workers, who had the ear of the party leaders, and had the ear of the party leaders, and hanning, the former a member of the City Democratic Committee. Witness thought Mr. Stein about $1,000 and that they had all work-ed faithfully for the company. The investigation is reaching a rather tame stage, and public interest is beginto lag in the proceedings of the nittee.

Called to Order.

The meeting was called to order at 8 o'clock by Chairman John B. Minor, and Mr. E. L. Beniss, who was president of the old Traction Company, was put on the stand and questioned first by Mr. H. R. Poliard, City Attorney, Mr. Bemiss did not tell a great many startling things and he stated that the company had spent but little money that he knew of in its fights for franchises and privileges spent but little money that he knew of in its fights for franchises and privileges before the Council.

Coming down to the question of his company's fight to go on Main Street, witness spoke of the difficulties he had experienced in getting the advantages to the public properly advertised, and then he said that the matter of getting up petitions had been placed in the hands of Mesers. Clyde W. Saunders and C. Manning, Jr., who had been employed for this purpose.

Here witness read a contract between the Traction Company and the gentlemen referred to above, which provided for the payment to Messrs. Saunders and Manning by the company of 250 each, and $1,759 each in the event of favorable action upon the petition by the Council. The contract also provided for an expense account of $1,600, to be paid to Messrs. Saunders and Manning upon vouchers.

OTHERS WHO WERE PAID.

Witness said that Mr. John E. Epes had worked for the company in the matter for a while, and Mr. Wirt E. Taylor had been also much interested in the fight, and he thought he had gotten something like $1,000.

"I am very sure no money was paid to any Councilmen by the company," said the witness. "The contract made between the company and Messrs. Saunders and Manning was strictly carried out by all parties."

Witness did not think that Mr. Stein was a supposed.

witness did not think that Mr. Stein company.

Witness was morally certain that some influence other than reasonable argument was controlling some members of the Street Committee against the Traction Cempany in the Main Street fight, but he could not speak of the matter specifically. He felt that way about it, but had no real proof which he could offer. Here the witness identified as genuine a batch of vouchers handed him by Mr. Pollard, upon which the company had paid the $1,000 expense account to Messrs. Saunders and Manning, and when he had done so he was excused, and Mr. Everett Waddey, the secretary of the Traction Company, took the stand.

SPENT LITTLE MONEY.

He said he had had much to do with the fights of the company before the Council at various times, but he did not think any money had been spent except for legitimate purposes, such as counsel fees, printing, &c.

Witness thought $20,000 would cover the ter.

He said it had been found necessary to employ influential political workers, who had the ear of the party leaders, and he stated that he had especially in mind Messrs. Saunders and Manning, the former a member of the City Democratic Committee. Witness thought Mr. Stein had all along been for the Traction Company's retition to go on Main Street. He pany's petition to go on Main Street. He thought Mr. Stein was an honest man, and one who would not accept money under such circumstances. • under such circumstances. "The Traction Company took high ground in the fight, and the directors agreed that if they had to spend money they would not have the franchise." Witness said he knew of no money having been spent on the other side in the fight. In leaving the stand Mr. Waddey said he recelled that Mr. Epps had resigned in a letter to the Traction Company before he went to work for the Fassenger and Power Company.

The committee rose at 9:29 o'clock, and in executive session decided to meet again

St. Paul's Church, at Charlottesvilles Crowded With Fashinnable Throng. (Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

Greens to the ines-bispatics.)
CHARLOTTESVILLE. VA., Oct. 2.—
A gay throng crowded St. Penl's, at Ivy, last night to witness the wedding of Miss Eliza Wood, the third daughter of Mr.
Charles Wood, of Ivy, to Dr. Clifford Sperow, of Martinsburg, W. V.
The ceremony took place at 5:55 o'clock.
The bride was given away by her father, and the Rev. Frederick W. Neve officiated.

The bride was given away by her father, and the Rev. Frederick W. Neve officiated.

The bride looked charming in a dress of crepe de chine, with tulle veil to match. The maid of honor was Mss Nannie Wood, siter of the bride. Tale were eight bridesnaids—Miss Rosa Wood, Miss Nancy Lea, Miss Nan Lemon, Miss Gertrude Price, Miss Mary Coffman, Mss Gertrude Price, Miss Mary Coffman, Mss H. Smith, of Danville, and Miss Sperow, of Martinsburg. W. V., Sister of the groom. These were dressed in white and carried bouquets of red carnations.

The best man was Mr. William Wood, brother of the bride. The ushers were Messrs. Dabney Coffman, George Fish burne, C. M. Davis, of Martinsburg W. Va.; Alexander, of New York; P. Alexander, of Charleston, W. V. Dunn of Washington, D. C.; Henry Matthews, of Clarke county.

The strains of the new organ were heard for the first time under the clever fingers of Miss Nolle Irvine, of Charlottewille, who played Mendelssohn's wedding march as the bridal procession advanced up the aisle, and the march from Lohenstria after the service, Dr. Sperow is a graduate of the University of Virginia, and is a rising young physician, who has already established at thriving practice at Martinsburg, W. Va.

Witness did not think that Mr. Stein had changed his position, and was igner the impression that the Jackson Ward member had always been for the Traction Company in its application to go on Main Street.

Questioned by Mr. Minor, witness corroborated the restimony of Sheriff Epesterarding the latter's connection with the Traction Company, and then he testified that he had no reason to believe that Messrs. Saunders and Maining had accepted money from the other company. On the other hand, he was very sure they had done their work thoroughly and faithfully, and had practically won the light for the company.

OTHER QUESTIONERS.

He also spoke in the highest terms of Mr. Taylor's work, and said he had been loyal to the Traction Company, but the Traction Company before he went with the Passenger and Power Company, but the witness could not recall distinctly, though he did not deny it.

Mr. W. F. Jenkins, of the Virginia Conduit Company, was allowed to ask witness could not recall distinctly, though he did not deny it.
